Testimonials from previous online semesters

My experience of participating in the semester was extremely pleasant and rewarding. It was a great opportunity for me to learn a lot of new and relevant things. I am impressed by the activity of my fellow students and teachers, who are always ready to help and start interesting discussions. Communication in groups was very productive, as well as working independently on tasks. I consider this experience to be very valuable for my personal and professional development. Everyone was always able to get support and constructive feedback. I felt part of a friendly and receptive community, which contributed to my academic success. Thank you all for this unforgettable experience!

Oleksandr Khrustivskiy
Vinnitsia National Agrarian University

Thanks to this online course, I have acquired new skills and abilities, and expanded my knowledge base on various topics. In addition, the online semester gave me the opportunity to develop myself both as a student and as a researcher. I wish to never stand still, but always develop and try myself in new projects.

Polina Morozova,
Poltava State Agrarian University

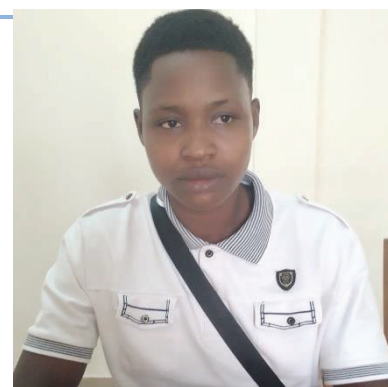

With the teachers teaching I have acquired a lot of knowledge and through that I have improved my skill. We exchanged ideas on future topics that will enable me to reflect on my future projects and take appropriate precautions.

Yénu-nann Pélagie KANGNAO
University of Lomé

I am very happy to have participated in this online training. This allowed me to collaborate with students from several universities and teachers. I would like next year my university to have this opportunity to have other students. I want to participate next year if it's possible and I would like to continue my degree studies in Germany. Thank you very much for your consideration.

Dibati-Emma Ograbako
University of Kara

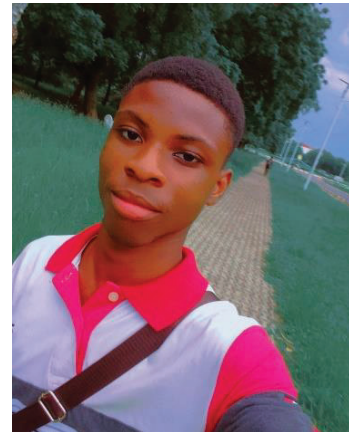

I like the way the material is presented and the methods of working with it are different from what I'm used to. There is an opportunity to try something new. In addition, the material is really helpful and interesting. It's also a good way to improve your English and learn how to work with various online platforms.

Daria Strokach,
Sumy National Agrarian University

During the winter semester, I learned a lot of things from the teachers. This online semester allowed me to understand and speak in German, which I could not do before. I gained good knowledge in business English for agricultural engineering which can help me in the future. For future participants, they must complete their entire course to benefit from the advantages of this online semester. In short, it's not a regrettable semester.

Steven E. K. ASSOGBA
Kara-Togo university

The course was a very interesting and useful experience for further study. I especially enjoyed studying personal branding, learning more about advertising and methods of attracting customers. It's also great that during the course you have the opportunity to communicate with students from different universities, which helps you make new friends and teaches you to unite and cooperate in a team with different people.

Milana Burminova,
Poltava State Agrarian University

The course brought me a lot of new skills that are definitely needed now, in the modern world. The teachers are professionals in their field, I especially liked personal branding and learned cool things related to social media, which I have already started using.

Anna Vasylyna,
Vinnitsia National Agrarian University

With the courtesy of the professors, we have equipped ourselves with new knowledge about new technology. Personally, I have developed an open mind about the outside world through the learning of new cultures, Business English for Agricultural Engineering, and plenty of surprises that I cannot mention. Overall, I feel proud to have such an opportunity that has shaped me so much, and my wish is for future generations to have this opportunity as well for the achievement of their professional careers.

Kodjo Messan Arsène AWUVI
University of Lomé

This semester has whetted my appetite for scientific research. It has enabled me to better manage my AGROPLUS startup on electronic human resource management.

Alfa Mewe Beigue
University of Lomé

Thanks for everything. I will say this international online semester went well with help of teacher. I have learnt a lot of new things. Not only that but i earned new level of my english as we are french speakers. About courses all are useful but i really appreciate business for agriculture engineering because i love agriculture and food quality.

Kibalo Arsene Aledi
University of Togo

The online semester at HSWT has been a rather unique experience due to the variety of courses offered, covering many different fields. I particularly enjoyed the administration and the structure of the courses, which are somewhat different from what we typically follow at our university.
